

Charlotte Jones,
RN, MS, BSN

Charlotte began nursing as a second career. Since graduation in 1997 she has taken advantage of the diversity in nursing. Her specialties are high-risk obstetrics, geriatrics, community health nursing, and wellness.

Since the beginning of her career, she focused on the belief that most people are born healthy and have the ability to reduce, reverse, or even prevent their illnesses.

Over the years Charlotte took every opportunity she could to be a well-rounded nurse. While working as a home health administrator she earned CHAP Accreditation; opened her own business teaching the 120-hour approved Nursing Assistant program through Florida COIE; approved curriculum and trainer through USF Training Academy on Aging, Levels I & II Alzheimer's disease and related disorders for assisted living facilities; a Certified Dementia Practitioner (CDP) and a Certified Alzheimer's disease dementia care trainer (CADDCT) through the National Council of Certified Dementia Practitioners; and a BLS instructor for The American Heart Association; owner of a private duty home health agency and a continuing education provider through CE Broker.

Charlotte treasures being able to educate and advocate especially for the vulnerable. As a nurse that earned a Master of Science in Nursing Education, her belief is that learning should be simple, engaging, entertaining, applicable, and leave you feeling energized!
